

Data Plan

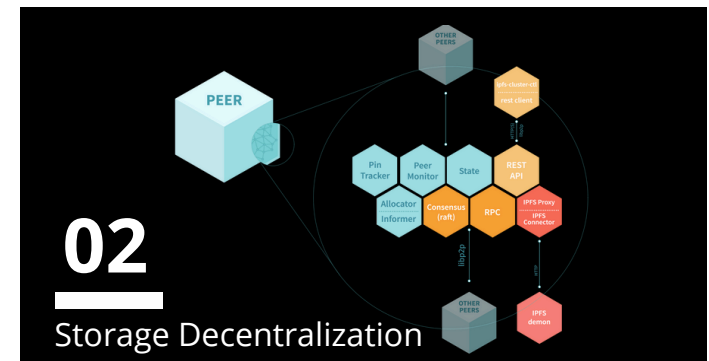

Cloud Native Microservices

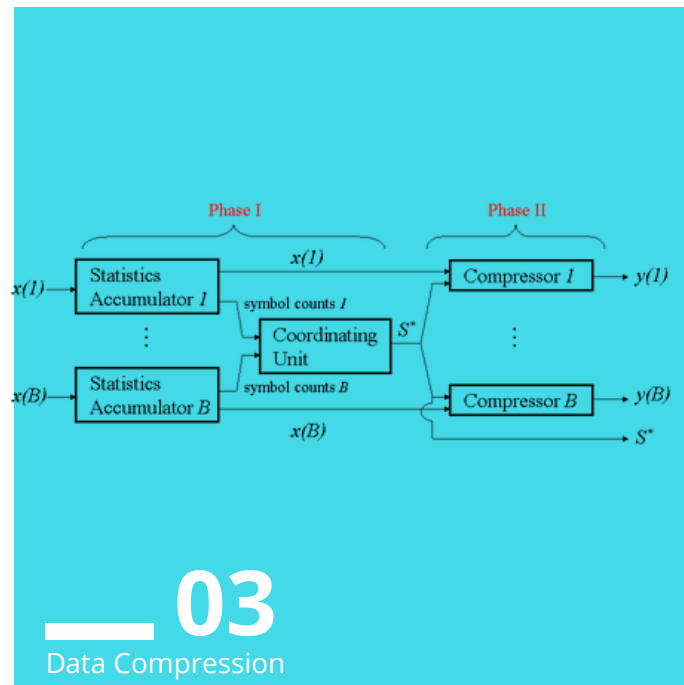

The demand for data in the application is supported by cloud-native technology. ACME Paint Services are accessed through containerized applications. This lets ACME Paint segment and improve different parts of the product without interrupting the entire application, while using a container policy that places data responsibility and responsiveness on the end user and their internet service provider.

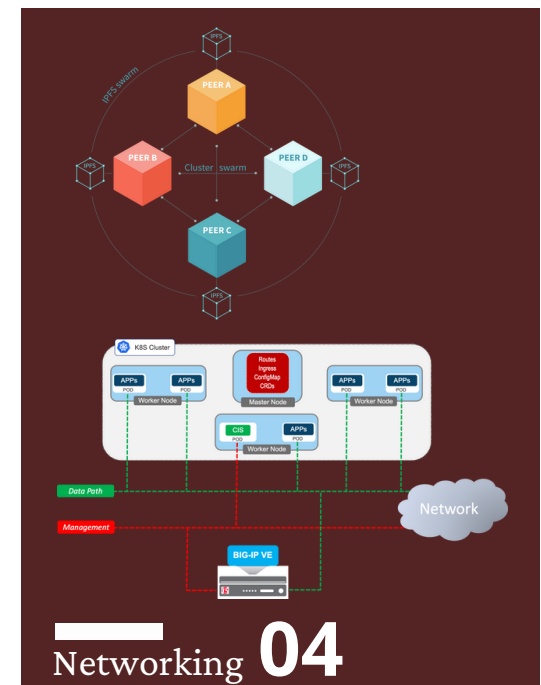

01 Authentication

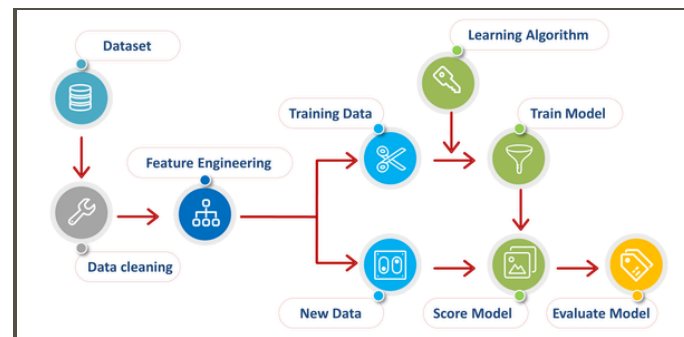

02 Storage Decentralization

03 Data Compression

04 Networking

05 Machine Learning Library